Health Department Lifts Swimming Advisory

GLYNN COUNTY, GA— The Glynn County Health Department has lifted the swimming advisory for the North Beach at Goulds Inlet area on St. Simons Island. The North Beach at Goulds Inlet area is from 15th to 10th streets. The advisory was issued August 8th after routine water quality tests showed a high level of enterococci bacteria, which increase the risk of gastrointestinal illness in swimmers.

However, a water sample taken August 9th showed that the bacteria level had dropped below Environmental Protection Agency's recommended limits. Therefore, the advisory has been lifted, and there are no Glynn County beaches currently under advisory.
